FROM THE PRINCIPAL

Dear St Martin's Families and Friends,

As we approach the final weeks of Lent we are asked to continue to take the time to reflect on those things that remain a barrier to being the best people we can be: pride, greed, anger, intolerance, judging others and putting ourselves down. Above all, if we are mindful of our encounters with the people in our families and communities and aware of their needs we are following in the footsteps of Jesus. This simple but effective prayer can assist us during our Lenten journey.

God, help me to recognise and own the weaknesses and imbalances in my life and to rise above them.

Enable me to not be discouraged by my daily failures but to have courage, with your grace, to correct them so that I will change, grow as a person and become more like Jesus. Amen

School day – setting children up for success

Please ensure children are at school on time to begin the school day before the 8.30am bell, as being on time sets them up for a calm start. Late arrival/late entry to class can be unsettling for all students and needs to be avoided unless absolutely necessary. Morning transition and settling is an integral part of each day of learning. Should late arrival be unavoidable, parents/carers must accompany their child to the office to sign them in. Thank you for your support ensuring learning time is optimised and all efforts to ensure appropriate morning routines are in place.

National Assessment Program – Literacy and Numeracy (NAPLAN) dates for 2017

The National Assessment Program – Literacy and Numeracy (NAPLAN), an annual Australia-wide assessment for all students in Years 3, 5, 7 and 9 will occur on 9, 10 & 11 May this year. Students in these year levels will participate in tests in reading, writing, language conventions (spelling, grammar and punctuation) and numeracy. Detailed information on these assessments can be found on the NAPLAN website: <http://www.nap.edu.au/naplan/parent-carer-support>

Sample tests can be accessed on the NAPLAN website: <http://www.nap.edu.au/naplan/the-tests>

More information will be provided to parents in the weeks leading up to these assessments.

Visit by NASA Scientist, Street Science Incursion and Afternoon Science Extension Program at St Martin's

Last week, the school had a special visit from Carmel Johnston who has recently completed a mission with NASA exploring the possibility of life on Mars. Carmel was a commander of the 'Hawaiian Space Exploration Analog and Simulation Mission'. She spent a year in the cramped quarters of an 80m² building replicating life on Mars. The data gained from this experiment was primarily concerned with investigating how people cope in isolation, extreme and confined environments (that of what the Martian first fleeters would be faced with upon arrival). The students enjoyed learning new information from Carmel and particularly enjoyed asking her about her experiences with NASA.

This week, our Year 5 students enjoyed some rich learning experiences as part of the Street Science program. Next term, the school is planning to introduce an afternoon Science extension program run by Science Education Australia. Details are included below. More information will be emailed to families later today. Please contact Donna Bennett (not St Martin's) if you have any questions regarding this program: scedau@optusnet.com.au

3. What a Muddle - The application of organized tests, based on the physical and chemical properties of substances, will be used to work out the nature of an unknown substance.

4. Rockets - The operation of a rocket is a controlled explosion. Newton's Third Law of Motion also explains the action of balloons, cannons, rifles, and squids.

5. Suds Shindig - What does 'clean' mean? Analyse and test the cleaning power of cleaning products and discover why clever chemistry triumphs over dirt.

Frank Sikalas is an ex-student of St Martin's and has recently published his first book. Entitled, Theseus and the Minotaur, it is about a hero from Greek Mythology. Frank will be visiting our school next week to speak with some of our students about his experiences as an author.

Reading Magic – This information from Mem Fox outlines the importance of reading each day.

Mem Fox loves to remind us that learning to read is 'magical'. We call upon our knowledge and understanding of a great store of vocabulary that we have heard and we match it to the context of a story in order to get the author's intended meaning.

When we, as adults, read aloud to children they gain a vast amount of general knowledge. They listen to the richness of language from books they cannot yet read. They hear the rhythm of words; the emotion of the story; all the things the author intended. If we keep reading aloud to children they will continue to be immersed in a world of words that they will eventually meet when they themselves are independent readers. Keep night time reading alive!

Thank You!

Thank you to the members of the P&F Association for the organisation of the school disco last Friday. Thank you to all staff and parents who assisted on the night.

Thank you to Chloe Adams (APRE) for coordinating the students' involvement in the School Sponsored Mass on Sunday evening. Thank you to all families and staff who attended and were involved in the various ministries.

Best wishes for the week ahead.

FROM THE ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL – RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

School Ministered Mass - Thank you!

Thank you to all the families who joined in our celebration of the Eucharist on Sunday evening. It was a lovely mass led by Father Maurice, with many of the ministries and readings being carried out in a respectful and considerate manner by St Martin's students. A special "thank-you" must go to Mrs. Power, Mrs. McLennan, Mr. O'Leary and their choir of students for providing us with beautiful and meaningful music.

Year 1D (Miss Dilley's Class) will be attending the 9:00am Parish Mass this Thursday 23rd March - all parents are welcome to attend.

Project Compassion - How are we going?

On Monday's Assembly, I spoke to the students about the rife poverty in Fiji, and we watched a video which showed exactly where our donations will go. A number of students have visited Fiji, and there was a hush of silence as they were able to see the difference between "resort Fiji" and the reality of life in a squatter settlement. You can watch this video yourself at the following link: <http://www.caritas.org.au/projectcompassion/videos/fiji-semi-video>

We set ourselves the goal to raise $1500 - enough money to provide a community in informal settlements with a three-day workshop to address their financial and social challenges in Fiji. Thank you to those families who have already donated. We have raised $932.00 so far. This is a great start, but we still need another $568.00 to reach our goal.

A reminder that there are two different ways for St Martin's families to contribute this year:

1. Donation to the Project Compassion Box: Every class has their own Project Compassion Box which will be collected each week on Assembly. There are also Project Compassion boxes in the office and at the Tuck-shop (for any of that ice block change!)
2. Donate Online: Donating online is a simple, fast and secure way to make a contribution to Project Compassion. Simply go to <http://my.caritasfundraising.org.au/stmartinscarina> and click on "Donate Now" to follow the steps for donating.

Upcoming Liturgies and Celebrations

This year, the St Martin's Community will be commemorating the last week of Jesus' life on Thursday 29th March at 11am. Easter Sunday and the resurrection will be celebrated on Wednesday 19th April at 8:30am. Please also set aside Monday 24th April at 8:30am for our ANZAC Day liturgy. All members of our community are invited to attend these special celebrations.

Have a great week and God Bless!

Chloe Adams

DIGNITY BASKET

Each Friday during Lent a group of mums have been meeting for prayer and discussion. In our first meeting we talked of the three pillars of Lent (prayer, fasting and almsgiving), and how to make them real. The idea of a dignity basket – an offering of personal or hygiene items for women in refuge or crisis situations emergency – was raised. We have commenced a small collection.

Though we are to care for the poor every day of our Christian lives, on Holy Thursday this profoundly Christian calling is emphasized by the collection for the poor, which is part of the Mass. Items for this Dignity Basket, collected throughout Lent, will be donated to the Romero Centre. The Romero Centre at Dutton Park is run by Mercy Community Services, and provides support to refugees and asylum seekers.

If you would like to donate, drop items into the office or the purple basket at the church entrance.

ITALIANO AT ST MARTIN'S

Last Wednesday the children at St Martin's celebrated the highly anticipated Carnevale Day. The day began with a wonderful Carnevale Presentation by our Year 6 students, where the community was able to learn about the origins of Carnevale. Each class from Prep to Year 6 paraded their amazing masks. We then had our first ever St. Martin's Spaghetti Eating Competition. Tailah won our student competition and Ms Tabrett closely followed by Mr Jacobs took out the teacher competition. This part of the morning was by far the most exciting part of our celebrations. We then finished the morning off with some Italian singing and group dancing. It was absolutely wonderful to see the whole school community smiling, dancing, prancing and having fun, which is what Carnevale is all about!

The day went on and the children who ordered Lasagna and Gelato enjoyed it with great gusto. The whole day was a fabulous, fun-filled experience enjoyed by young and not so old.

I would like to take this opportunity to especially thank all of the parents and families who attended our Carnevale Day celebrations and also a big thank you to the Michelle Lewis in the tuckshop and the tuckshop ladies who helped organise all the food on the day!!!
